DIVISION OF POLICE

Department of Safety

City of Cincinnati

January 1, 1931.

HONORABLE C. A. DYKSTRA,
City Manager.

Dear Sir:

Herewith is submitted the Forty-fifth Annual Report of the Cincinnati Police Department for the year ending December 31, 1930.

ORGANIZATION

The personnel of the department (exclusive of the clerical force consisting of 18) was 658 at the close of the year 1929, being 12 short of the regular quota, while at the end of the year 1930 the effective strength was 644 (exclusive of the same number of clerks), there being at this time a shortage of 23 in the quota allowed.

There were but seven patrolmen appointed during the year, two reinstated and one retired man restored to duty, all filling existing vacancies.

Our population in 1910 was 364,463, with a mileage of approximately 49 square miles, the numerical strength of the police force at that time being 627. Due to annexation of new territory since 1910 and other causes, our population has increased to 451,160, with an increase in territory to approximately 74 square miles. With this increase in population and area we have a police force of but 644, just 17 more men than we had in 1910, and to patrol this added territory.

From these figures it can be readily seen that the personnel has not kept pace with the progress of a modern city. We have approximately one patrolman to every 900 population, while the general trend, in most of the larger cities, is one man to every 450 population. Then again, our territory to be patrolled is broken by hills and valleys, which makes it more difficult to cover than a city located on a level plane.

Of our force of 644 men we have 63 assigned to the motor-patrol service; 73 to traffic; 12 acting as station-house keepers; 53 at Detective Headquarters; 10 detailed as court officers and to Humane Society; 3 at Headquarters and Bureau of Records; 4 permanently detailed at railroad depots, and 42 men on reserve detail at district stations (14 on each of the three reliefs). It also must be borne in mind that the number of men on patrol duty is further depleted by absence due to sickness, injury, leave, suspension and days off, the daily average number of these absentees being 115 for the year 1930.

In addition to the regular details mentioned, we also have temporary details at schools, baseball and football games, boxing and wrestling matches, band concerts, theatres, exhibitions, circuses, conventions, elections, parades, play-streets, regattas, airports, fires and strikes.

After deducting these details, we have available for patrol duty on the first relief approximately 56 men, and 118 men each on the second and third reliefs. On the first relief each patrolman has about one and one-quarter square miles of territory to patrol, which makes it difficult for him to do justice to his position with the amount of detail work he has to perform. The second and third reliefs are in a slightly better condition.

Taking these figures into consideration it is not unusual or surprising that we hear an occasional complaint that there never is a policeman around when wanted.

DISCIPLINE AND MORALE

The discipline and morale of the force is very good. The force is working harmoniously and effectively. The rules and regulations are being generally obeyed and carried out.

DRILL

Nine company drills, including all members of the uniformed force, were held during the early part of the year.

The Annual Inspection of the force was held on Plum Street in front of the City Hall April 5th, with a very creditable showing. Eight companies of police, color guard, patrols and crews, and motorcycle men were inspected by the Mayor, City Manager, members of Council, and Chief of Police and his staff.

Annual Inspection, Review and Parade of the Police Force was held on April 5th, 1930, on Plum Street, opposite City Hall. The Battalion being inspected by the City Manager, members of Council, Chief of Police and Staff.

POLICE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR RECRUITS

One class of recruits was trained and added to the force during the year, filling existing vacancies.

Recruits are required to attend this school for a period of sixty days before entering upon the duties of patrolmen.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION

The regular school classes for all members of the department were held during the year, instructions being given in laws, ordinances, rules and regulations, evidence, topography, police procedure, crime prevention, revolver target practice, observation, discipline and courtesy.

We have compiled a new Book of Instructions, which is very complete and thoroughly covers the laws, ordinances, regulations, and mostly all matters that would be of interest and instruction to the police force. The book is one of the most comprehensive of its kind; in fact, we know of no other book in any city of the country that in any way approaches it in its usefulness as a study and guide book for the police force.

The Manual of Rules and Regulations also has been revised and brought up to date.

POLICE RADIO BROADCASTING STATION

TARGET PRACTICE

Target practice was held during the months of April and September for all members of the force. Those failing to qualify were formed into classes and required to take a special course on their own time until they qualified.

Quite an improvement was shown in the marksmanship of the officers and patrolmen whose progress was slow during the previous year.

MACHINE GUN PRACTICE

Instructions were given the Machine Gun Squad in the handling of the Colt's Machine Gun, which covered mounting, dismounting, breaking, assembling and target practice. We have two of these guns.

Members of the Detective Department were instructed in the use of the Thompson Sub-Machine Gun. This instruction embraced the nomenclature of the weapon, breaking, assembling, loading, carrying and handling of the weapon, as well as the firing of same.

Instructions were also given members of the Detective Department in the use of the Webley & Scott Gas Gun.

There were purchased during the year the following guns:

Two Thompson Sub-Machine Guns,

One Webley & Scott Gas Gun,

Ten Auto-Loading Remington Shotguns.

POLICE RADIO

The Police Radio Broadcasting Station, which is known as Station WKDU, is at present located in a wing of the old Eden Park Pumping Station, and is equipped with a 500-watt transmitter, operating on a frequency of 1712 kilocycles.

Our radio system was installed by this department. It is of our own make; in other words, the various parts were purchased by us and assembled by our operators. The transmitter was designed and built by our own men. Its frequency is controlled by a piezo crystal and the transmitter was built with all important parts duplicated, so that if the crystal or other instruments should burn out, we can still operate.

The offices of the City Manager, Chief of Police and Detective Headquarters are provided with a microphone, broadcasting going direct from these offices to the transmitter in Eden Park. The transmitter can be started and stopped at will by direct wire connection from these offices.

All district police stations and sub-stations are equipped with radio receivers, operating on alternating current, which are permanently tuned to receive from our broadcasting station only, and will be on continuously when the system is completed.

Automobile radio receivers are being installed in all police patrol and cruising cars. These are six tube battery sets, permanently tuned to the operating wave length. These receivers will be on continuously while the cars are in use. We expect to have eighty cars equipped with these receivers in the early part of the coming year.

NEW SEVENTH DISTRICT POLICE STATION

We have met with quite a lot of interference with our system and it is not yet complete. The impression prevails that the transmitter is improperly located and experiments are now being made with a view to trying the same on the upper floor of the City Hall. Should these experiments prove satisfactory, the system will be moved to the City Hall.

POLICE SIGNAL SYSTEM

A survey is being made by a local concern with a view to installing a police recall signal system. A system of the kind contemplated would enable Headquarters and the District Superintendents to get prompt response from the men on their beats, the idea being a system of lamp flashes. If this system should be put in operation it would greatly enhance the efficiency of the police service of the city.

SEVENTH DISTRICT POLICE STATION

The new Seventh District Police Station, located at No. 813 Beecher Avenue, Walnut Hills, was completed and opened for police business on March 1, 1930.

This station is a model of its kind, not only architecturally, but also in its layout and convenience for the purpose for which it is intended. It was built at a cost of $60,000, $9,500 of which was paid for the ground.

BUREAU OF RECORDS

The crime-reporting system installed at this bureau has been very effective and is proving indispensable in the solution of our crime problem.

A new set each of felony and misdemeanor analysis sheets were designed, printed and put into use during the early part of the year.

The Daily Consolidated Report, Monthly Report and Quarterly Report were revised to conform to the latest set-up of Uniform Crime-Reporting and Standard Classification.

During the year a personnel card file system of private policemen was installed, which contains a complete record of each man, together with his photograph and fingerprints.

New steel files have been added to care for the current filing of offense reports, pawnshop cards, automobile theft cards and analysis sheets.

A new adding machine was purchased and installed in the early part of the year for the purpose of facilitating the compilation of statistics.

One steel desk also was purchased to replace an old dilapidated one used by the automobile theft clerk.

The bureau has been handicapped during the past year by having only a limited use of the tabulating machine in the Auditor's office, not being in a position at all times to give out or compile information; besides, there is a great deal of work that could be done on the tabulating machine, such as modus operandi cards, crime statistics of offenses, etc., which has not been touched as yet. It is therefore recommended that a tabulating machine be installed in the bureau to properly care for the increasing work of this kind.

POLICE PROPERTY ROOM

This branch of the department is seriously handicapped by a lack of room, filing racks, etc. It is recommended that modern equipment be purchased and the rooms properly equipped.

This is one of the five Buick cruising cars which are used for responding to hold-ups, burglaries and other emergencies. These automobiles are all equipped with short range radio receiving sets.

MOTOR EQUIPMENT

The following new and used motor equipment was purchased and added to the service during the year:

1	Cadillac sedan	(new)	for	City Manager
1	LaSalle sedan	"	"	Chief of Police
23	Ford coupes	"	"	District service
2	White patrols	"	"	Patrol service
1	Ford touring car (used)	"	"	General service
1	Ford coach	"	"	"

It is recommended that at least three additional cruisers of substantial make be provided for the coming year. This will enable the department to patrol properly all parts of the city.

ECONOMIES

The printing of the daily Police Bulletin by contract has been discontinued. The bulletin is now being mimeographed by the City Purchasing Agent, and a saving of approximately 60% was effected during the year.

The practice of contracting for the furnishing of meals to prisoners at the various station-houses was also discontinued during the year. The City Workhouse is now furnishing these meals at an approximate cost of $4,245 per annum, as against $5,765 the previous year, being a saving of $1,520 this year.

GAMBLING

The department has continued its drive against all forms of gambling, and particularly that most pernicious one—commonly termed handbooking or race horse betting.

The total arrests for gambling was 1,238.

SLOT MACHINES

During the year numerous attempts were made by promoters to install nickel slot machines in the various stores, poolrooms, soft drink places and the like. The department has been seriously handicapped in obtaining evidence against these machines, they being, without doubt, gambling machines, but, under court ruling, it is necessary for the police to get something of actual value before they can make an arrest and confiscate the machines. The system used is to give a package of mints for the nickel played, and at odd intervals from one to ten brass checks. They state these checks are of no value. They are not to members of the force, but to customers of the place who are known and properly vouched for. These checks are taken in trade for their face value. We are taking the matter up with the City Solicitor with a view to having an ordinance drafted that will cover the paying out of the checks in addition to the package of mints. We feel that this practice itself is purely a scheme of chance.

We have taken up numerous machines during the year, made quite a number of arrests, and have secured convictions in most of these cases, but, in each and every case it is an expensive proposition for the department because of the fact that it is necessary for our men to become thoroughly acquainted in each and every one of these places (not in the character of a policeman, but as a private citizen) and spend considerable money in playing machines before they can receive any goods of value with these checks. Notwithstanding the difficulty of securing the proper evidence, we are making an aggressive fight and we feel that we will win in a short time and put all of these machines out of commission.

HANDBOOKING

Our activity along this line has brought some of the keepers of these places to court, and in two cases they secured injunctions against our entering the places and harassing them. Notwithstanding this, we are vigorously ferreting out and prosecuting these hand-bookers.

During the year there were 80 arrests in connection with handbooking and 57 telephones removed by the department which were used for gambling purposes.

There are no known clearing houses in this city for handbooks, their places of business and headquarters being located in the various villages surrounding the city.

POKER, CRAPS, ETC.

Close attention also was given to other forms of gambling, such as poker, craps and gaming devices, there being 176 arrests of principals in cases of this kind during the year.

On the whole, the department feels that it has the gambling situation well in hand.

PROHIBITION

The department has continued its activities in the enforcement of the prohibition law, and we feel we have been fairly successful, notwithstanding all the difficulties and obstacles in our way.

It is becoming increasingly difficult for us to clean up and make successful raids, with convicting evidence, on what is commonly called "beer flats," in other words, flats occupied by private parties in apartment buildings, being used almost exclusively for the sale of beer and liquor. These, unlike public buildings, require a search warrant before we can take any action, and before we can secure a search warrant a statement is necessary that we know the flats are being so used. In trying to obtain the information to enable us to make a statement or oath as to the business carried on in these places, we more times than not set off the alarm and are defeated in our efforts.

The records show that we have 2,363 arrests for violations of the prohibition law during the year, being 519 less than the previous year.

Approximately 6,644 gallons of liquor, 9,523 gallons of beer, 137 gallons of wine and 1,312 bottles of ginger were seized and destroyed during the year.

There were also 81 automobiles of various makes confiscated and ordered sold by the court on account of being used for transporting liquor.

SOCIAL EVIL

There are no known or tolerated houses of prostitution or assignation in the city. Any attempt at establishing anything of the kind is met with prompt police action.

STREETWALKERS

The quarantine system, whereby common prostitutes and streetwalkers are sent to the Workhouse for examination, evidently has lost its terror to the prostitutes, as the records show that during the year there were 2,281 arrests of this kind, there being an increase of almost 300 arrests over the preceding year. There is no doubt that these women are becoming bolder every day, and the only question is, what can be done to curb this evil practice?

TRAFFIC

The situation as regards traffic is as good as can be expected, and we feel there is a decided improvement in the expediting of traffic. The placing of signal lights is one of the principal reasons for this improvement, as lights are being placed now at all prominent intersections, not only in town, but in the suburbs, these lights relieving the police department of quite a lot of work. Notwithstanding this, as we stated in a previous report, at certain intervals of the day we find it necessary to station every available man at certain intersections for the purpose of making things safe for pedestrians, especially children.

The parking of cars in the streets of the city is still the main problem of traffic. For us to attempt, even in a small way, to cite all of the parkers, is out of the question, and we feel, as we have repeatedly stated before, that it is about time that "No Parking" regulations be installed in the congested district at least, or else allow unlimited parking. As it is, it is a question of one vehicle going out and another coming in.

The total arrests and citations for traffic violations during the year was 70,064. Of this number 49,349 were for illegal parking, 3,110 for speeding and 1,477 for reckless driving.

STATISTICS

Attached is a report of crime statistics and other matters pertaining to the business of the department during the year.

Respectfully,

WM. COPELAN,
Chief of Police.

TABLE III.

NUMBER AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENSES KNOWN TO THE POLICE

Shows major offenses brought to the attention of this department, from whatever source during the current year; whether by means of citizens, complaint, report of police officers, or as a result of "on view" ("pick-up") arrests, or otherwise. Under the heading "Unfounded" are listed offenses which investigations proved to be groundless. The column headed "Cleared" indicates the number of cases cleared by one or more arrests. The column headed "Not Cleared" shows those cases in which no arrests were made and which are pending, inactive and closed cases.

"Cleared by Arrest." This column does not refer to the number of arrests, but to the number of offenses which are cleared by one or more arrests. Only cases cleared between January 1st, and December 31st, are included. Example—If one is arrested and prosecuted for having committed fifteen burglaries in the city this represents fifteen cases cleared by arrest; or if four are arrested who have jointly committed one burglary, this is carried as one burglary cleared.

No offense is cleared unless the person arrested is charged and prosecuted therefor.

Exceptional Clearances:

The following are exceptional clearances, not the result of arrest:

Suicide of offender

Double murder

Deathbed confession

Confession by offender already in custody or serving sentence

An offender arrested by another city and turned over for prosecution, or an offender prosecuted in another city for a different offense; or when extradition is denied.

Not Cleared Other Years:

In this column are entered offenses which were carried as "Not Cleared" in previous year report, but which have been cleared by arrest during the current year.

DISTRIBUTION OF CERTAIN OFFENSES BY MONTH—1930

Tables IV and V show a selected list of offenses distributed according to month and time of day and day of week. This information is valuable in arranging vacation periods for the force, and in distributing personnel throughout the various districts by months, days and hours, which will show whether crimes are increasing or decreasing, the change in types of crime, showing location, month, day and hour of day and from a point of police administration and control, this report is invaluable for police operation, as the major changes and movements of the force must depend on these tables, this table will not only point out these conditions but also will show at what point the machinery is breaking down and thus we find this set-up of valuable assistance to the administrator in finding the correct remedy. In brief, this set-up is as significant to police administration as a monthly operating and financial statement is to a large industrial corporation.

Table VII is designed to give information concerning traffic and motor vehicle violations. Although the number of persons charged with these violations does not represent the number of violations committed, but only the citations and arrests, these figures indicate the burden which traffic control places on the police force. This information concerning various types of violations will give us a better idea how to cope with the traffic problem.
